

Mayor Jackson charges:

'Recall action racist'

By NORMAN COLBY
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — Mayor Joyce Jackson, Albany's first black city council member, believes there are "strong racial overtones" to the recall campaign directed towards her.

And she told the I-G that, "petty, unadulterated jealousy" is responsible for efforts to recall the council's two other members, Pat Griffin and Mike Gleason.

Mayor Jackson's racism and jealousy charges have drawn strong condemnation from minority council members Lewis Howell and Robert Leonard and the recall campaign coordinator.

Statements on both sides indicate the recall campaign may reach a fever pitch unlike any political controversy in Albany's recent history.

Albany housewife Jan Mulhall, leader of the recall, and many local citizens are circulating separate recall petitions, directed against each of the three council members.

Recall talk became fact after the council majority members forced the resignation of 16-year veteran City Administrator James Turner.

After a period of silence, Mayor Jackson responded to public pressures during a council meeting. She admitted that Turner is considered competent but declared that he is out of step with the "new directions" and the "people-oriented" posture of the council's majority of three.

Mrs. Jackson's I-G statements were critical of the two remaining council members not targeted by the recall effort.

She said Councilman Lewis Howell, "... symbolizes Albany's past era of racism and repression. She indicated that Howell, who served as Albany for eight years of his 22 years on the council, is jealous of the "energetic and intelligent" Griffin and Gleason.

Councilman Robert Luoma, she said, "... can be open and frank when he is not being coached by Councilman Howell."

"I was the first person on the Albany City Council to support a black man for state office," said veteran Councilman Howell, referring to his support of former Assemblyman Byron Rumford, author of the Rumford fair housing act.

"To call me a racist is to ignore my well established record over the years in the area of civil rights," Howell said.

Howell appeared to be the main target of Mayor Jackson's attack although he disclaims involvement in the recall movement.

Howell said he was much criticized for his support of Rumford, especially during the controversy over Rumford's proposed "fair housing" bill which was later incorporated into federal law.

"And I gave just as wholehearted support to his son, Bill Rumford, when he ran for Berkeley city council and county supervisor, and I was chairman of the Rumford Albany Committee."

"Mrs. Jackson may remember that she thanked me publicly for supporting her husband, Booker Jackson, in the race for Peralta District school board," Howell said.

"I never felt there was such a thing as power in being a city council member. My record, I think, speaks to that effect."

"My special interest now is the senior citizens of Albany."

"I think Mrs. Jackson is a fine woman but she has been misled by the other two, Gleason and Griffin," Howell stated.

'SECOND ARK SPEAKERS' BATTLING FOR A BETTER WORLD

Women's drive to 'launch a new ark'

By WOODY JOHANNES
I-G Staff Writer

ALBANY — A women's organization dedicated to building — or at the very least revamping — Planet Earth, is gaining momentum here. The group apparently is operating on an historic premise — if women don't do something about it, no one will.

Established as "Woman to Woman Building the Earth for the Children's Sake," the movement also answers to the less inclusive title "Buildin the Earth." And B.E.'s initial step in that direction has been to schedule a series of programs, billed as "The Second Ark" lectures, in five Bay Area locations. And a better place to launch a world-wide clean-up couldn't have been found, according to some observers.

An Albanyite, Diane Lohman, will be a featured speaker at all sessions. She shares the podium with Lynne Haywood of Berkeley and Dixie Stropie of El Cerrito.

rito "in this effort to gather women together for positive action in building a better future for all children."

"We'll speak this evening in the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo," Mrs. Lohman said. "We're scheduled there (at No. 2 Kensington Road) at 7:30 a.m. June 25. Both will be held in the Daly Science Center. Last of the series is in the Gunn High School in Palo Alto at 7:30 on the evening of June 29."

"Our title — 'The Second Ark' — is symbolic," she assured us. "The Ark was built to preserve and continue life on earth. The story of Noah tells us that, through man's violence and greed, the world had deteriorated to a level of chaos and destruction. Today all life is threatened by these same elements."

"Noah symbolizes one individual out of all the world who was doing right. The time is now for women to build the second ark, to stand for what is right in order to secure the values and ensure life for future generations."

"Build the Earth," Mrs. Lohman concluded, "is essence, a women's education organization committed to these principals — to help women reach their highest potential in order to improve the spiritual, psychological and physical atmosphere of the world."

The non-profit foundation now claims a membership of 1,000 women. "And we are attempting to establish a network of 100,000 who will work with us," Mrs. Haywood said.

The Berkeley delegate commented that "one of our current projects is circulation of an energy check-list. We're asking women to check the energy-saving methods they're utilizing and send the marked lists to Governor Brown and President Carter. We're hoping to get at least 32,000 in the mails."

"Our major projects," she added, "are conservation of energy, reduction of pollution and elimination of television violence."

The program sounds as broad as the universe — but it's getting the backing of a lot of very determined women.

If they succeed, we won't have a worry in the world.

Councilmen debate a variance

ALBANY — The Albany City Council spent much of its session this week over the issue of a variance to allow the construction of a water heater and closet to the property line at 1047 Ordway.

The construction, proposed on the property of Bruce Davis, had become a controversial issue since it will come within 13 inches of the adjacent property line. The existing ordinance requires three and a half feet between construction and the property line.

The Planning Commission had recommended denial of the construction, but the City Council, after a lengthy hearing Monday night before a small turnout, voted to okay the new building.

The City Council also briefly took up the question of the strengthening of the city administrator post being vacated by James Turner, but finally moved to have the strengthening measures turned over to the city attorney to be set up in draft form and returned to the council next week.

Also considered was the federal loan program under public works, housing, and community development, which provides funding for improvement of homes of the elderly. After a review of the financial procedures, and some minor modifications, the council voted to approve application of the program in Albany. Final procedures are being set up.

Recall Committee chairman blasts

Rumor of Clark appointment

ALBANY — A rumor that former Albany mayor and councilman Richard O. Clark is the choice of the current council majority to replace James B. Turner as administrative officer "is interesting," Janis Mulhall, chairman of the Albany Recall Committee, said today.

"Each of the three, Mayor Joyce Jackson and Councilmen Michael Gleason and Patrick Griffin, directly or indirectly became council members because of Clark," she said.

"Clark was first elected to the council in 1964 and was named mayor in 1966. When former mayor and councilman Joseph Egenberger died suddenly in January, 1967, remaining councilmen were deadlocked on choice of a successor. Clark waited 10 days longer than the required 30 days of deadlock before appointing H. F. (Red) Call, who by 1974 had caused voter disenchantment because of his controversial Albany Hill parkland deal. This was a primary issue which made it possible for Gleason and Griffin to unseat veteran councilmen Joe Carlevaro and Lewis Howell in the April, 1974, election.

"In November, 1974, Clark resigned as mayor following his election to the BART Board of Directors,"

Mrs. Mulhall said. "Vice Mayor Gleason became acting mayor."

Following his resignation from the Council, Clark said he had full knowledge of the ramifications of the appointment of (Gleason as vice mayor). Maybe the others on the council did not at the time — but I did. Following the election of Gleason and Griffin to the city council the previous April, Clark had hailed their election as refreshing and a beautiful vote."

The recall chairman said that at first Clark said he wanted no part in the selection of his successor, a selection that would determine political control of the council.

"There was a great deal of talk about a compromise candidate. Many names were submitted by the four remaining councilmen, George Hein and Call on one side and Griffin and Gleason (Turn to page 2, col. 1)

Lions install 35th president

ALBANY — Elliott Jones was installed as the 35th president of the Albany Lions Club, in ceremonies conducted by Dr. Henry Kruse, recently, at the Mira Vista Country Club. Jones succeeds Alan Caruso.

Also installed were vice-presidents Joseph St. Clair and Jack Dempster; Allan Vincent, secretary; Fred Sierra, treasurer; Dr. Arthur Longpre, trailblazer; and Edward Flippis, Lion. Robert Flynn and Barry Schreyvogel, newly elected to the board of directors, will serve with William Potts and Michael Bailey who were named directors in 1976. (Alan Caruso, as immediate past-president, and Dr. Kruse as club bulletin editor, will serve as ex-officio directors.

The brief ceremonies preceded a dinner dance. William Savage served as master of ceremonies, and the session was opened by Don Chalmers.

Following the installation, the members "reaffirmed their commitment to raise funds for a snack shack in Albany's Memorial Park," Dr. Kruse said. "This permanent structure will be owned by the city and operated by its Parks and Recreation Department. The facility will be available, without charge, to any Albany group which uses the park. The members hope to start construction soon."

"The Lions Club, the City of Albany, and various civic groups already have contributed almost half of the funds needed, and the Lions will continue to seek the contributions required to complete the project. We plan permanent recognition of all large donations," he concluded.

Voters asked to check on registration

ALBANY — Voters who failed to cast a ballot in the last general election, those who have moved within the last 30 days, and those who have changed their names must re-register to vote before any election, Albany City Clerk Patricia Dempster warned local residents today.

"You may register at the office of the city clerk, in the city hall, at 1000 San Pablo Ave., between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, and at the Fire Department in the early evening hours on weekends," Mrs. Dempster said.

"If in doubt, it is best to re-register," she added.

Albany Maid and alternate

MICHELLE LEE BROWN

DOREEN MORANDIN

ALBANY — Michelle Lee Brown has been named "Maid of Albany for 1977-78," and Doreen Morandin has been selected as "alternate," Hal Debbam, manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, announced today. Both girls are members of the Albany High School Senior Class and will be graduated Friday.

Michelle, the daughter of the Thomas Browns of 927 Talbot, is at Knotts Berry Farm today, with other contestants vying for the title "Alameda County Fair Maid," as a guest of the fair board, Denham said.

The C of C executive also announced that the Chamber will again sponsor a bus trip to the fair in Pleasanton on Albany Day, June 28.

"Tickets are six dollars and include round trip passage, admittance to the fairgrounds, and a grandstand ticket to the horse races," Debbam said. "Reservations must be made in advance as the bus capacity is limited to 40 adults."

'RECALL ACTION RACIST'

Robert Luoma brought Luoma's comment that "Her statement that howell is coaching me is utterly idiotic. If I can't make up my own mind, I would not sit on the council."

"The only time Howell and I talk to each other is during council meetings," Luoma said.

Mayor Jackson declared, "Mrs. Mulhall is a tool. She is being used by people with whom she has no common viewpoints. She has often been complimentary and supportive of me in the past. They are temporarily giving her an elevated status."

"When Mrs. Mulhall discovers she has a conscience, I expect she will come to me and apologize," Mayor Jackson said.

The Jackson statements against Mrs. Mulhall brought the recall coordinator's reply that, "I am my own person."

Mrs. Mulhall said, "I consider myself to be an intelligent, thinking person. I am not a tool of any political faction. I originally supported all three majority council members. But I have seen them go from moderate to ultra-liberal and watched the negative effects that has had on this city."

Mayor Jackson said her belief that racism is involved has developed over the years since she was appointed to the council in 1974 and elected in 1976.

"I have heard the insulting remarks, both direct and indirect, over a period of time, reflecting both racism and jealousy," she said.

However, she refused to name individuals whom she alleges harbor racist thoughts or make racist statements.

Mrs. Mulhall "... once felt free to come to me about personal matters," Mayor Jackson asserted. "Now, she hasn't the courtesy or good faith to come to me and hear my side of it."

Ballet company slates auditions for dancers

ALBANY — Auditions for young dancers will be conducted by the East Bay Ballet Theatre, Jane Stamps, artistic director of the company, said yesterday.

The auditions will be held in the studio at 1417 Solano Ave. on Sunday at 1 p.m.

Dancers must be at least 10 years old to audition for the apprentice company and 13 to audition for the company. Those dancers who are accepted for the group must take two company classes per week beginning in September and continue with at least two classes per week with their current teacher. They will have the opportunity to participate in the summer workshop, June 20 to July 29, daily, 9 to 1:30 p.m.

Lessons in baton and marching

ALBANY — A continuing program will feature baton lessons and marching unit instruction for Beginners (6 years and over), apprentice and intermediate.

Classes will be held at Marin School multipurpose room, 1001 Santa Fe Ave., on Thursday afternoons, June 30 through September 8, for nine weeks for $14. Beginners are scheduled from 1 to 1:45 p.m., Apprentice - Intermediate, 1:45 to 2:30 p.m.

Registration for the summer classes will be taken at the Albany Park & Recreation Department, 1000 San Pablo Ave., or by calling 644-8514.

The East Bay Ballet Theatre, incorporated in 1974 as a non-profit organization, serves the East Bay as a training company for young dancers who need the intensive training and performing experience necessary to qualify for professional companies.

Auditioning the dancers will be Ms. Stamps and Virginia Krempetz, company teacher. Ms. Stamps has performed in all fields of dance in Europe and the United States. She has danced as soloist with the Chicago Civic Ballet Co. and for eight years she was official choreographer for the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Prior to coming to the Bay Area Mrs. Stamps founded and directed civic ballet companies in the Midwest. Currently also on the staff of Ballet Arts in San Francisco Mrs. Krempetz studied with the San Francisco Ballet and was a member of its company where she appeared in "Nutcracker" and "The Swan Lake". She has danced with the San Francisco Repertory Ballet, College of San Mateo, the Jerry Gerson Modern Dance Co., the California Shakespeare Festival, and was founder of the Idaho Repertory Ballet. She has participated in a number of choreographers workshops.

APPOINTMENT RUMOR

on the other. Candidates were interviewed and at least one can look back on that time and recall its feeling that there was no point in the ritual because it was obvious the selection had already been made.

"At one council meeting there were charges of alleged political bossism, Mrs. Mulhall continued. "A candidate charged there had been a deal between Gleason and Clark to appoint Albany housewife Joyce Jackson. Gleason and Griffin had publicly supported Jackson as Clark's replacement."

"About this time, Clark dropped his neutrality and announced his support for Jackson. He is quoted in the press as advising Gleason to appoint her single-handedly if the council was not able to agree upon a candidate by Dec. 9, when the 30 days would have elapsed since Clark's resignation and the mayor would have the right to appoint."

Mrs. Mulhall said both Call and Hein had announced the possibility they would resign so a special election would be necessary to put three new councilmen in office.

"On Dec. 9, Gleason appointed Jackson," Mrs. Mulhall said. "It came as a surprise to no one."

The chairman pointed out that voter attitude had changed by the April, 1976, city elections, when Howell was returned to Albany City Council as the top vote-getter among 12 candidates with 1,706 votes. In second place was Robert Luoma, who campaigned on an anti-Gleason-Griffin-Jackson platform, with 1,300. Jackson, the incumbent, finished third with 1,203, only 156 votes ahead of Keith Truax, a political newcomer. When the council reorganized, Jackson was named mayor.

"Despite the obvious change among Albany voters, Jackson was again named mayor this year, Mrs. Mulhall said, adding, "That is quite a story in itself."

"Apparently everyone wanted to be mayor. The matter was tabled on the traditional night for reorganization. Before the next meeting, Jackson went to Turner with the surprising news that it had been decided he had to go."

"At the next council session, Luoma asked for the election. Gleason said he would bring it up later. A personnel session was called and it was there that Howell and Luoma learned that the majority wanted Turner out. Turner said he would submit his resignation. When the council returned to the chambers, Gleason made the motion to name Jackson as mayor."

She was elected 3-2.

"Was Turner the sacrificial lamb on the altar of Jackson's political ambitions?" Mrs. Mulhall asked. "Did the council majority think they would be safe from recall? Did they think the voters would forget by the city election in April, 1978?"

"Now, in flyers being circulated by 'The Committee For Responsible Government,' the group decries the spending of $20,000 that they claim the two elections could cost."

"The ouster of Turner, after 16 years service, will cost the city $12,000 in severance pay plus another $5,500 to be spent with a firm finding a replacement for him. There is $17,500 of the taxpayers' money down the drain without voter approval for spending one cent."

"Add to that the $5,000 to $10,000 they will have to pay attorneys in the suit they filed against Police Chief James Simmons, brought about only because they can't stand the idea of anyone having authority over his own department, and, using the minimum figure, the total is $22,500," the recall chairman said.

"The council majority brags about not increasing city taxes, but by not reducing them in proportion to increasing property taxes, they have actually increased taxes."

"Property tax revenue to the city of Albany has increased from $765,000 in 1974 to $1,115,000 this year. Now, facing a recall, they will reduce our taxes and take all the credit."

"Many of us who supported Jackson, Gleason and Griffin are now working on the recall election. We have changed our minds about their motives as exemplified by their actions. We are afraid of what might happen next."

We urge those who may have been missed by petition carriers to call me at 525-5528 or Johnnie Grisham at 525-1705, the recall committee chairman concluded.

1000 Oaks car parking under study

ALBANY — Because of the "tremendous increase of shops on Solano Avenue," parking in the Thousand Oaks area is becoming a major problem, the 1000 Oaks Business and Professional Association revealed in its current "Newsletter."

"Even metered parking is under consideration," the letter stated, "although this system once proved disastrous for Solano. Though paid parking is accepted by customers of downtown shops, Thousand Oaks is too close to shopping plazas boasting extensive free parking. There are measures we can all take to forestall such a drastic measure. (1) Merchants should park far from Solano and (2) encourage their patrons to use the shopper refund lot on Colusa."

The Association also announced plans for a Fourth of July promotion to be sponsored jointly by the neighborhood association and the merchant association. The event will include a parade and a skateboard and bicycle decorating contest.

Albany Rotarian Hal Denham voiced firm approval, today, of a recent convention-floor decision which will continue to exclude women from the organization.

"Admitting women to the club would destroy its original concept," Hal sighed. "Rotary was formed with the idea of the male owners or executives of businesses in the various classifications promoting reciprocity."

"Some years later women formed a parallel organization — the Soroptimists. And still later the Business and Professional Women. Both women's groups are represented in this area. And, to the best of my knowledge, no male is applying for membership in either organization. For women to join Rotary, or for men to enter the Soroptimist Club, could, eventually, destroy both organizations."

"Another adverse factor would arise when both husband and wife belonged to the same service club. It could create professional jealousy which could put a severe strain on the marital ties as well as the Club."

"And apparently the majority of Rotary agrees with our decision."

Senior citizens can benefit from homeowner, rent refunds

SACRAMENTO — California's senior citizens will benefit from refunds both to renters and homeowners who are 62 years of age or older this year.

The Senior Citizens Rent Assistance Law, passed last year, authorizes refunds to renters 62 or older as of Jan. 1, 1977, whose total household income is $5,000 or less. Claims for the rent refund may be filed before Aug. 31.

Spokesmen for the State Franchise Tax Board predict more than 200,000 elderly renters will benefit this year through the program, and that the average refund will amount to $100.

Persons who live in tax-exempt housing do not qualify, but those who claimed the standard $37 renter's credit on the Personal Income Tax Form 540, and who do not live in tax-free housing are eligible for the assistance refund. Those who believe they qualify should phone the County Senior Citizens Information and referral Center, or write the State Franchise Tax Board, Senior Citizens Program, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, Calif. 95807.

Senior homeowners are likewise benefited through a property tax assistance measure. The average refund for more than 300,000 senior homeowners will be $236 this year, compared with a figure of $176 last year.

The increased homeowner benefits stem from revisions in the state laws which now allow an elderly homeowner to earn $12,000 and still be qualified for the refund program. The previous limit was $10,000.

Elderly homeowners may get back from 4 percent to a possible 96 percent of the property tax on the first $8,500 of assessed value of their homes.

Seniors interested in such refunds should again contact the local Senior Citizens Information and Referral Center, or write the State Franchise Tax Board Senior Citizens Program.

Albany posts Legion sweep

Albany's American Legion team turned on the power over the weekend, sweeping Newark, 17-3, and Alameda, 9-3, to forge into a one-place tie with Charles Young Post, both at 3-1 in league play.

Charles Young kept pace with Blasting Berkeley, 14-3, Sunday. Berkeley was a 1-0 winner over Newark in a Contra Costa College contest Saturday.

"We brought our bats," understood Albany assistant coach Fred Cabral. The league leaders bashed 19 hits in their Saturday romp over Newark before making the most out of eight fatalities yesterday.

Right-hander Steve Stark of Fremont High went the nine-inning distance on a seven-hitter Sunday and added his cause with a two-run homer in the three-run fourth, giving Albany a 6-1 lead over Alameda.

Jeff Chamness belted a solo homer for the winners in the second inning after Albany went ahead to stay with two runs in the bottom of the first for a 2-1 lead.

John Luty, who stole five bases yesterday, opened the first with a walk, Raul Ybarra singled and both runners advanced into scoring position on Jeff Ransom's grounder to the mound.

After Andy Odisio popped out, Luty scored on a wild pitch. Greg Westphal then walked and Ybarra tallied the go-ahead run when the first baseman dropped the pickoff throw.

Rick Jyrinki of St. Mary's High fired a six-hitter and struck out 10 in pitching Saturday's win. He added a two-run single in the decisive eight-run sixth and also had a run-scoring hit in the ninth for three RBI.

Luty's two-run triple was the big blow in the sixth. Tom Pearce got four hits in seven trips for the winners. Westphal added three hits and Ybarra scored three runs.

Berkeley was simply overwhelmed by Charles Young Sunday, falling behind 11-0 after three innings. The winners collected 18 hits off a pair of shell-shocked Berkeley pitchers.

Mike Wilder supplied most of the punch for the losers with two of their four hits, including a double, and a sacrifice fly. Berkeley made five errors in a sloppy showing.

Saturday, however, Berkeley went into the eighth trailing 3-2, but erupted for three runs to post the victory behind the relief pitching of Dave Wilder, who allowed one run in four innings for the win.

A's draftee Shooty Babitt opened the eighth with a single, stole second and scored on Terrence McCracy's double. McCracy was then retired on Brian Guinn's fielder's choice grounder.

Keith Harrell was walked intentionally and he and Guinn staged a double steal. After an intentional walk to Mike Wilder, walks to Dave Wilder and Walter Seull pushed across the final two runs.

Albany, 10-4 overall, has a pair of non-league games this week, hosting Danville tomorrow night at 6 at Memorial Park and visiting Vallejo Wednesday night.

Albany Bowl

Riedlinger series 'a near record'

By PHIL ALSTON
Les Riedlinger continued to figure prominently in the summer scoring at Albany Bowl last week, fashioning a total for four games in leading the 535 Scratch Trials.

Riedlinger was well on his way to a record performance with games of 238-190-211 but his 158 finale left him with the league's second best cluster of the summer.

Otherwise, the best scoring of the week came in the Jubilee Mixed League where Mark Valente topped the 97 series with 227 and Bob Mann shot 211-564.

In the Men's Jubilee Ron's Machine Shop retained its one-half game hold on first place by beating Ten Pins 11. Jim Malkson's 541 set helped Red Riders stay in contention with a 2-1 decision over Cin Financial, and Paul Bennett contributed 10 to Performance Inc's win over Richmond Brass by the same margin.

Water low but resorts open in 'Redwood'

SAN FRANCISCO — Despite record water shortages, the Redwood country continues to welcome visitors in selected areas as school holidays approach.

A roundup of resort regions by the Redwood Empire Association shows:

RUSSIAN RIVER water level low. Fishing poor, canoeing limited, swimming virtually confined to resort pools. Recreation emphasis on riding, hiking, tennis.

MARIN COAST: Point Reyes National Seashore open but campers should bring water. Drake's Beach swimline begins service June 18. Samuel Taylor State Park open to campers; water rigidly controlled. Pt. Reyes parade and livestock show June 18-19.

Clear Lake: Municipal swimming ramp at Lakeport usable. Resorts dredging ramps. Lake two feet below last year's level but boating activities unlimited. Middletown Days fun, June 18-19.

Petaluma: Voluntary tubacks effective. Pismo-Marine Fair on schedule June 22-26 — art shows, concerts, rodeo.

Fort Bragg: Motels, restaurants busy. "Skunk" Train re-opens service June 18. Salmon Barbecue changed to July 3. Mendocino City "very dry."

Humboldt Redwoods State Park: Water limited at Hidden Springs campground. Swimming continues though Eel River is abnormally low. Garberville Rodeo June 17-19.

Eureka: Voluntary water rationing in effect though motels full. Redwood Acres Fair June 22-26. Eureka Image Tour starts June 21.

Willow Creek: Trinity River low, OK for drifting. Fishing excellent. Big Foot Days on schedule, June 17-19.

Klamath: River level good. Klamath Salmon Barbecue is June 26 (logging show). North of Eureka, recent rains have dampened forests, reduced fire hazards, improved camping. Elsewhere, fire precautions rule.

More detailed information is available from REA, San Francisco, (415) 421-6554.

and Lonnie Bruscher's 590-21-611 topped Class B. In house eliminations for the second monthly Summer Doubles tournament Paul Pillow and Ev Curtis were the leaders with a modest 1224 total.

Hunting permits to go on sale

SACRAMENTO — Licenses, stamps and tags for 1977-78 California hunting seasons will go on sale the week of June 19 at Fish and Game offices and with most license agents around the state, the Department of Fish and Game announced today.

Hunters were reminded that the Fish and Game Commission again has adopted special deer tag regulations for the area designated zone X, which includes all of Modoc County, most of Lassen and portions of Siskiyou and Shasta counties.

The special rules are designed to discourage deer hunting in the area where the buck-to-deer ratio has remained low and hunter success is again expected to be poor.

Again this year, as was the case during the 1975 and 1976 seasons, deer hunters will have to decide, before buying their tags, whether to hunt only in zone X or only in the remainder of the state.

The magnificent Mercedes-Benz 450SEL: It's a world unto itself.

With its price of more than $24,000, it's reasonable to expect that everyone — driver and each and every passenger — should enjoy every moment spent in the Mercedes-Benz 450SEL. Everyone does.

Because within its artfully sculpted contours, the 450SEL conceals an extraordinary array of creature comforts. Yet here is one car that appeals as strongly to the intellect as it does to the senses.

The Mercedes-Benz 450SEL is the contemporary version of the classic touring car. The automotive embodiment of elegance.

To be sure, it is a driver's automobile, replete with dozens of stunningly sophisticated engineering developments. Most of them are unique to the 450SEL.

But the 450SEL is also a passenger's automobile, in which a host of biotechnological ideas have been beautifully translated into human terms. The result is pleasure...pure pleasure, whether you take the wheel or simply enjoy the ride.

Appeals to the senses
You enter the Mercedes-Benz 450SEL through doors, front or rear, that open a full 36 inches wide. Close the doors and you're wrapped in a sure, secure and satisfyingly luxurious environment. You savor satiny, premium leather—or, if it's more to your taste, rich velour. You settle into wide, anatomically correct seats, firmly sprung, whose individual suspension is actually tuned to the car's own suspension. You notice that all interior surfaces are padded and finished for safety as well as sumptuousness.

You defy the elements with a Climate Control system designed to automatically maintain the precise temperature you prefer at any setting between 65° and 85°. The system also defogs, defrosts, and dehumidifies. Twelve strategically placed vents—including front doors that actually "breathe"—assure proper ventilation in every area of the car.

You observe the world outside through an expanse of tinted glass. If you are a passenger, unobtrusively sited rear reading lamps let you read or work at night without interfering with the driver's vision. Adjustable stereo speakers bathe you in sound at the touch of a switch. You cruise even the roughest roads smoothly and with confidence, the result of the 450SEL's synergistic combination of independent suspension, 116.7-inch wheelbase and welded—not bolted—monocoque construction.

Appeals to the intellect
The 450SEL is a remarkably complete car. It comes to you with a complement of safety, performance and comfort features—as standard equipment—that is almost unheard of these days. Your Dealer HANDLING: A Mercedes-Benz forte for decades, brought to a new standard of excellence in the 450SEL Touring Sedan.

- Standard Equipment in the Mercedes-Benz 450SEL:

 3. Automatic Antenna.
 4. Automatic Transmission.
 5. Breakerless Transistorized Ignition System.
 6. Central Locking System.
 7. Cruise Control.

COMFORT: In engineering, interior dimensions, quality of materials and craftsmanship the 450SEL offers superb comfort for all its passengers.

SAFETY: Over one hundred separate safety elements and systems are combined in the 450SEL.

can give you all of the surprising details. There is another advantage to the 450SEL that deserves your thought. Retained value.

As you'd expect, year after year, Mercedes-Benz has achieved an unparalleled record in this vital test. Based on the average official used car prices over the past five years alone, Mercedes-Benz holds its value better than any other make of luxury car made in America. Any other make.

Given the extraordinary attributes of the 450SEL, it seems only logical that this car should enjoy remarkable resale value indeed.

When you buy a Mercedes-Benz 450SEL, you do unto others—magnificently—as you would have them do unto you. The 450SEL Sedan is a very special world unto itself. For you...for every passenger. Contact your Mercedes-Benz Dealer. A convincing demonstration drive is easy to arrange.

Dear Sir:

My wife and I wish to express our sincere appreciation and admiration to the Albany Chief of Police, his men, the fire department and paramedics for the efficient and professional way they all responded on May 4 when help was requested.

We believe Albany residents should be aware of the excellent service of these departments when in need. We have had our residence in Albany for many years and hopefully will have many more years in the future.

Many thanks.

Dear Sir:

The Northern California Coalition for Handgun Control, supported by 15 civic and religious organizations, and 70 local politicians and lawmen, campaigned to get citizens to turn in their handguns.

They collected one gun.

We can draw only one of two conclusions: only one of all those involved owned a gun or it's only our gun they are after.

Which conclusion would you be willing to bet your defenseless life on?

The Editor

Dear Sir:

At the City Council meeting of May 31, several members of the recall committee were present including its chairperson, Ms. Janis Muhall.

I suggested to the Mayor that in keeping with the American tradition where the accused face their accusers, it would be a god time for the recall committee to stand up and prove their charges, for the benefit of the public. Ms. Muhall did not answer but retired police officer Bernard Johnson did. Speaking into the microphone, he shouted, "Mr. Meniketti, I don't have to prove a thing to you not a thing!" With these words, the recall committee arose from their seats and departed from the chamber.

Why did Mr. Johnson behave as he did? Why did the recall committee back down from my challenge? What are the recall people afraid of? Could it be that they don't have a case and they know it!

My fellow citizens! I have said in public many times that I have an abiding trust in your intelligence and in your sense of fairness. All I would ask of you is that you acquire all the information available for and against the recall and study it thoroughly.

Thank you.
Sincerely yours,
DARIO MENIKETTI

East Bay Park District approves record budget

OAKLAND — East Bay Regional Park District Directors last week adopted the largest budget in the 43-year operation of the public agency amid self-congratulations for EBRPD's innovative zero-base budgeting procedure.

Adult school sets summer schedule

ALBANY — The six-week summer session of the Albany Adult School starts Monday with some one hundred courses being offered leading to such goals as job improvement, a high school diploma and self-enrichment. Enrollment remains open in most classes.

A wide assortment of day and evening classes has been scheduled including business, homemaking, physical conditioning, parent education, academic, fine art and craft courses. Adults with specialized interests might enroll in guitar, cosmetology, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, photography darkroom, rapid reading, pottery, secretary training, indoor gardening and foreign language courses.

Most evening classes will meet on the campus of Albany High School, 605 Key Route Blvd. A single tuition of $4.00 covers the cost of one or more courses.

Unanimous acceptance came at the fourth public airing of the $26,328,947 budget for 1977-78, appropriately on the motion of Board Finance Chairman William F. Jardin of San Leandro.

The breakdown showed $10,375,035 for the operating budget, including extensive capital improvements at "old" pre-1972 parks; $8,945,271 for acquisition of several projected parklands and rights of way for the Regional Trail System, and $7,008,641 for development and maintenance of new parklands.

The tax rate cannot be set by the Board until assessors in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties determine the assessment ratio in the two counties, usually in late August.

Jardin and his co-director financiers, Harlan R. Kessel of Oakland and Dr. Howard L. Cogwell of San Leandro, spent some 30 hours haggling away at more than 1,000 projects proposed by District workers for implementation before they passed on the final document to the full seven-member Board last month.

The zero-base budgeting method is a concept of budget-making that taxpayers are now vociferously urging other public agencies to adopt.

"In this second year of using the innovative concept, savings of $500,000 resulted," Jardin said.

Pinole Director Paul J. Badger, on the Board since 1964 and now the senior member who was Acting President for the budget adoption, asserted: "This is the largest budget I've seen and it has gone through the smoothest."

In seeking help from the public, some 450 copies of the 40-page full document went out in mid-May to libraries, cities and other public agencies, homeowner and taxpayer groups, park-user groups, community organizations of all varieties and "individuals who have shown a past interest in EBRPD budgeting."

This marks the ninth year that the Park District has submitted its budget to the public prior to adoption.

Fairmont appeals for hearing aids

OAKLAND — Hearing aids are needed by the Fairmont Hospital's Speech and Hearing Department.

The department maintains a hearing aid bank for use by children and adults whose hearing is impaired but who cannot afford to buy a hearing aid and do not qualify for a medical aid program that will pay for the instruments.

Pharmacist has "tried them all..." discovers weight control program that really works!

Pharmacist Dan Smith of Burger's Drug Store in St. Charles, Illinois is a NaturSlim "believer" after losing 18 pounds in just two weeks. After hearing so much about the NaturSlim program from customers and seeing the excellent results they were having, Dan decided to try it himself.

"In my many years as a pharmacist, I've seen and tried numerous weight-loss plans, but none have worked as well for me as NaturSlim. And NaturSlim is very nutritional too!"

After three months, Dan has not regained any of the lost pounds either, as so often happens when "rebounding" from starvation diet plans. He maintains his weight by taking NaturSlim once daily... and eating normally otherwise.

Dan says, "It was surprisingly easy, too! I didn't have to attend any weigh-ins, starve myself or do any special exercises!"

With the NaturSlim program, there are no shots, drugs or long lists of forbidden foods. In fact, you are encouraged to eat a normal, well-balanced dinner every day.

The next time you are in the St. Charles area, stop by Burger's Drugs and see Dan yourself. He'll tell you personally what he thinks about NaturSlim!

Sociobiologists debate inheritance of behavior

SAN FRANCISCO — You know how you got those blue eyes. You inherited them through your genes. So too with your hair color, height, and body build. But that might not be the extent of the gene's role.

Scientists in a new field, sociobiology, claim that human behavior patterns may also be genetically shaped. Traits which sociobiologists theorize are genetically transmitted include aggression, altruism and homosexuality.

"It's a shocking theory," says Dr. Michael Gregory, director of NEXA, the Science-Humanities Convergence Program at San Francisco State University. "No one has ever before suggested that behavior is inherited and subject to evolutionary forces. It has immediate implications concerning the way we look at ourselves."

NEXA is hosting some of the leading exponents of this new — and highly controversial — field in a two-day symposium entitled "Sociobiology: Implications for Human Studies," Tuesday and today at San Francisco State University.

With Dr. Anita Silvers of the University's Department of Philosophy as coordinator, the symposium will take place in the McKenna Theater on the San Francisco State campus. There is no registration fee and the event is open to the public.

The symposium is being held in conjunction with the Pacific Division Meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, taking place that week at the University.

The Sociobiology conference gives scientists and humanists a chance to analyze the consequences of sociobiology's view of man. Among the issues they will examine in panel discussions are:

—What happens to the idea of moral and social

"choice" in the context of genetic determinism?

—Are all our social, cultural, economic and political structures subject to biological explanations?

—If they are, then isn't the status quo, with all its social evils, unavoidable?

—What, in sociobiology, is man's responsibility for his society?

—What methods can we use to reliably test the theories that sociobiology proposes?

Major panelists include Dr. Kenneth Boulding of the Institute of Behavioral Science at the University of Colorado; Dr. Garrett Hardin of the Department of Biological Sciences, University of California, Santa Barbara; and George Wald, of the Department of Biology, Harvard University. Like evolution, sociobiology is based on the idea of natural selection — but of superior mental and emotional qualities, not just physical ones. "Survival of the fittest" then includes the "fittest" behavioral traits.

One leading sociobiologist, for example, says that spitefulness exists as a repeated human trait because humans are intelligent and see its advantages.

Sociobiology's theories have started a major debate.

As their mildest, opponents of the new discipline claim that it ignores the effect of culture and environment and makes behavior deterministic.

At their wildest, they charge that sociobiology is racist and sexist. One group has even linked it to the eugenics policies that led to the Nazi gas chambers.

Sociobiologists have retaliated with cries of "academic vigilantism."

A resolution presented last fall at a meeting of the American Anthropological Association called sociobiology "an attempt to justify genetically the sexist, racist and elitist status quo in human society." The resolution was defeated, but the controversy continues.

The NEXA symposium plans to bring humanists, scholars whose training lies outside the sciences, into the discussion of this highly-charged human issue.

"By this symposium, we want to show that the humanities play an important role in the evaluation of a new discipline," says NEXA director Gregory. "Science alone is not able to meet the challenge. Scientists are not trained in ethical and moral behavior patterns as humanists are."

"The basis of our culture and value system might have to be reexamined. The images we have of ourselves have to be looked at and maybe changed. Sociobiology picks up where Darwin left off."

And not since Darwin has the scientific world been so fiercely divided, as the "neo-Darwinism" threatens to reshape our view of ourselves.

Annual sand sculpture contest set

OAKLAND — How would you like a couple tons of fresh clean sand to build your own dream castle? Or to sculpt a vicious shark, a huge King Kong or whatever fleeting image strikes your fancy?

The opportunity to indulge in sand building, one of the few "old-fashioned" activities still around, is offered free to individuals, families and groups of all ages on Saturday morning, in Alameda.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., the broad beaches of Alameda's Robert Crown Memorial State Beach will become the creative hub for all those never-aging builders in sand for the 11th annual Alameda San Castle and Sand Sculpture Contest.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to "master artists," and the only strict rule is that castles and sculptures must be made of sand only. Wood, rocks and shells "found on the beach that day" may be used for "appointments."

There will be two divisions, the castles and the sculptures, and three categories in each division: family groups; individuals or groups 11 years and older, and individuals or groups 10 years and under.

Newcomers to the competition are strongly advised by San Francisco Bay tide-watchers to heed the 9:30 a.m. opening and start building then, since judging must start at 12:30 p.m. to beat the incoming tides.

The construction area will be on the beach in front of the big East Bay Regional Park District bathhouse complex, near the intersection of 8th and Westline Drive. Competitors are asked to register before beginning their artistry for the convenience of the judges and the media.

Office here, said today.

The San Francisco Regional Office approved 152 education loans during April for the largest monthly total since the program was started two years ago. During April 1976, 46 were approved.

Almost 1,700 loans worth $1 million have been granted to date by the San Francisco Regional Office.

The VA makes educational loans, beyond regular VA allowances, up to a maximum of $1,500 per academic year, to needy veterans and dependents, to meet educational costs. Applications come from veteran students enrolled under the G.I. Bill, and from dependents using the dependents educational program.

Loans are limited to students enrolled in a school in the United States, its territories and possessions, the commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone. Applicants must be enrolled on a half-time basis or more in courses leading to a standard college degree, or in a program of at least six months duration which leads to a professional or vocational objective.

No loans are made for correspondence, flight, high school or on-the-job training. Applicants first must apply for a guaranteed student loan administered by HEW. If they are turned down for the HEW loan, or fail to get the full amount, they can be considered by VA.

Repayment of principal and interest is deferred until nine months after the student ceases enrollment. Full payment is due within 10 years and nine months. No interest is charged until the beginning of the repayment period. At that time interest starts on the unpaid balance at the rate of 7 percent per annum. There is no prepayment penalty.

A 3 percent fee is deducted from the face amount of the loan to provide an insurance fund for defaults.

Complete loan information is available from veterans representatives on campus or at a local VA office. The San Francisco Regional Office is located at 211 Main Street (corner of Main & Howard).
